CITY CLUBS CLEANING OUT SLOTS

Health Workers' Pay Upped

Boards Act In Closed Session

Annual salary increases of $690 for Dr. Harry Wain, city-county health commissioner, and about $100 for several other health department employes were approved at a closed meeting of the health boards Jan. 25, official records showed today.

The action was taken during an "executive session" which was called in the middle of an open meeting of the city and county boards.

A News-Journal reporter late yesterday discovered the raises during a routine check of city records.

By virtue of the action, the city's portion of Dr. Wain's salary was raised from $4,590 a year to $5,000 a year, which, added to the increase approved by the county board, brings his annual wage to $8,690, as compared with $8,000 last year. He also will receive $40 a year for transportation.

Other increases granted to health department employes paid from city money follow:

Miss Martha McFarland, office secretary, up $55, bringing her total annual salary (including the portion paid by the county) to $2,760 annually.

James L. Kuneman, sanitary inspector; Sam Young, dairy inspector, and Howard Myers, plumbing inspector, were raised from $2,892 a year to an even $3,000, plus traveling expenses.

The two nurses paid out of city funds were given increases of $100 a year, making their annual wages $2,500 a year.

No money was made available by city council to grant an increase to Dr. A. C. Biddle, staff physician.

Of those paid from county funds, Ray O. Scott, sanitary inspector, was granted a $108 a year increase, making his salary $3,000 a year.

The one county nurse was granted a $100 a year increase, which will raise her salary to $2,500 a year after she has worked for six months.

Five other nurses, paid from school state or cancer society funds, were unaffected by the pay boosts.

Girl, 12, Held After Stabbing

MASON, Mich. — (UP) — Authorities puzzled today over what to do with a 12-year-old expectant mother being held on charges of stabbing her 23-year-old husband.

Probate Judge John McClellan said that, although the pretty, blue-eyed Mrs. Etta Long is to become a mother in about five months, her marriage of last October is invalid.

The girl said she wants to go back to her husband, Weldon Long.

Judge Cramer Asks Welfare Unification, Rips 'Jangling'

Blasting at "overlapping and jangling" between public assistance departments, Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer last night called for the creation of a county welfare department which would coordinate the activities of all relief agencies.

"We need someone at the head of all our assistance organizations," Judge Cramer told a meeting of the county commissioners, the Child Welfare board, and representatives of the State Department of Public Welfare at a meeting in the Children's Home.

As an example of the present confusion, the probate judge said a man might go to the county relief office for assistance. After his case had been studied, he would be advised to go to the department of Aid for Dependent Children, there he might be sent along to the agent of the Child Welfare board at the Children's Home.

"This is a crying shame and a pitiful condition!" Judge Cramer declared.

He said he had personally been trying to straighten out the case of one man who had been shunted from agency to agency and could not get needed relief simply because he had a job and was willing to work.

"What that man ought to do is quit his job," snapped the judge, pointing to the absurdity of a situation in which a man cannot get assistance simply because he is willing to take care of himself as well as he can.

Guy Stewart, chairman of the county commissioners, declared that his board had recognized the need for coordinating agency work for a number of years and that they had frequently considered the establishing of a county welfare department.

Commissioner Cyrus L. Shoup said one of the difficulties had been in finding a qualified man to head the unit.

Mrs. Black was born in Kenton Aug. 19, 1868, the daughter of John Mumford and Mary Ellen Whitney Pearce. She was married to Harry S. Black on April 10, 1894, coming to Mansfield to make her home. She had lived here continuously since that time.

FLYING GIANT—The world's largest land plane, the Navy's new transport Constitution, sped across the nation yesterday in nine hours and 32 minutes. Ninety persons were aboard the huge craft for the trip. As the air giant takes off smoke can be seen pouring from JATO (jet-assisted take-off) bottles beneath the wings. (International)

Air Giant Sets Record

Plane, 90 Persons Cross Continent

WASHINGTON —(UP)— The Navy's record-breaking Constitution is a preview of the kind of plane the public may fly in "in about five years," an aeronautical engineer said today.

The mammoth plane sped across the continent yesterday in nine hours and 32 minutes with 90 persons aboard, the largest number ever to make such a flight. The trip was made from Moffett Field, Cal., to Washington.

Hall L. Hubbard, vice president and chief engineer of the Lockheed Aircraft corporation, which built the 92-ton sky giant, predicted that commercial airlines would be flying similar planes about five years from now.

Turning out only 50 to 60 per cent of the rated total 14,000 horse-power of its four engines, the Consitution cruised smoothly at 21,000 to 25,000 feet, far above effects of weather.

The 72 passengers—correspondents, Navy officers and aviation industry officials—and 18 crew members moved about on the ship's two decks with a freedom usually associated with an ocean liner.

Buyers Brave Bad Weather

Despite inclement weather, Mansfield retail stores were crowded with local and out-of-town shoppers today, opening day of the annual Greater Mansfield two-day sales, V. H. Lodde, secretary of the Retail Merchants association, said.

Sixty Mansfield stores are participating in the event, sponsored each year by the Retail Merchants association. The stores are offering winter and early spring merchandise at special bargain prices.

The Greater Mansfield Day observance will continue through Saturday.

Claims Passage of Oleo Bill Assured

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Rep. Cooley (D., N. C.,) predicted today that his House Agriculture committee will reject any compromise and vote to repeal all federal taxes on oleomargarine.

Running Feud Continues

Taft, Truman Clash In New Labor Row

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A sharp new dispute between President Truman and Senator Taft (R-Ohio) pointed up the battle over the administration's labor bill today.

Mr. Truman started the ball rolling by saying he has ample authority as president and commander-in-chief to halt strikes endangering national health or welfare without any additional power in the new bill.

Taft retorted that even the suggestion the President has such power "is a threat to the liberty of the people."

The President, at his news conference late yesterday, was talking about the "inherent powers" which Attorney General Clark ascribed to him for dealing with critical work stoppages.

The administration bill would repeal the Taft-Hartley law and restore an "improved" Wagner act. That would wipe out the Taft-Hartley provision for 80-day court injunctions to block "national emergency" strikes.

Clark has told Congress he believes the President still would have "exceedingly great" inherent powers to meet the situation, despite the fact that there is no provision for court orders in the administration bill.

Mr. Truman agreed with his attorney general.

TAFT TAKES ISSUE

Then Taft, at a session of the Senate labor committee last night, took sharp issue with the President. He said:

"In time of peace, there is no power without a statute to get an injunction."

"The very suggestion that any such power exists is a threat to the people of the United States."

Before the White House conference yesterday, Taft had made it plain that he did not agree with Clark.

This opened a new chapter in the running feud between Mr. Truman and Taft over labor law. In fact, the President himself smiled and said that he and Taft never did agree on a labor bill.

Franco Reported Stepping Down

MADRID — (INS) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco was reported today to have definitely decided to relinquish his post as Spanish prime minister.

According to sources of usual reliability, the Spanish Caudillo shortly will hand over the premiership to General Jose Enrique Varela, now High Commissioner of Morocco.

Franco will retain, however, his other two posts as chief of the Spanish state and supreme commander of the nation' armed forces.

Latest Red Peace Plan Rejected

7-Point Program Declared 'Silly'

BULLETIN

LONDON — (INS — Reuters reported from Moscow today that "well-informed sources" believe Premier Stalin would be willing to participate in a four-power conference with President Truman, British Prime Minister Attlee and French Premier Queuille.

★

WASHINGTON —(UP)—American officials today rejected a new Soviet-inspired seven-point "peace plan" and said flatly the cold war will continue until Russia lifts the Berlin blockade.

The latest peace overture came from a Moscow-controlled Berlin newspaper which laid down conditions it considered essential to solution of East-West differences.

The rapidly-stiffening U. S. attitude toward Russia was underscored late yesterday by President Truman's declaration that he will deal with the Soviets only within the United Nations. He reiterated that he will not meet Premier Josef Stalin anywhere but in Washington.

Mr. Truman said he stood behind Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson's rejection of Stalin's bid for a two-power discussion of world problems.

Any such negotiations, the President said, must be conducted in the United Nations. Acheson accused Stalin of playing international politics with the world's hopes for peace.

The Soviet-controlled Berlin newspaper listed these points as a prerequisite to peace:

1. Withdrawal of American troops from Greece.
2. Withdrawal of American troops from Korea.
3. Acceptance of Moscow's own plan for disarmament.
4. Abandonment of the North Atlantic Security pact.
5. Postponement of plans for a western German state.
6. Reversal of western-power policy in Berlin.
7. Alteration of the western-power program for the Ruhr.

American diplomatic officials described the proposals as "preposterous" and "silly."

Russian Escapers In U.S.A.

WESTOVER AIRFORCE BASE, Mass.—(AP)—Two Russian air force officers who escaped from the Soviet Union by plane landed here today—delighted to reach America.

They took off for America Wednesday noon from Rhienmain, Germany, airfield in a Navy VR-3 military air transport plane and landed at Westover at 2 a. m. (Eastern Standard time).

They had a message for American communists.

Speaking through an interpreter, the fliers, Peter Pirogov and Anatole Barsov, said:

"Instead of making all their noise they should volunteer to go to Russia for one month. They would be glad to return here and resign from the communist party."

They expressed the belief that Premier Stalin offered to meet President Truman because the cold war "had gotten to a point where it might become serious. Stalin doesn't want war this soon anyway."

Soviet authorities, they added, believe that any Russian who thinks well of America is "morally unstable."

Asked if they were pleased to be in America, both exclaimed, "Da, Da," in their native tongue, before the interpreter could speak for them.

PLANNED FOR A YEAR

They said they had planned their escape for a year after hearing "pleasant things" about Americans from Russian officers who had contact with U. S. soldiers during the war.

The thing that finally spurred them to fly out of Russia was news of the escape of Madame Kasenkina from Soviet authority in New York. They explained that thrilled them.

They said their flight for liberty began at Kolombia airbase in the West Ukraine and ended in Austria.

They had flight maps leading them only as far as Munich, but with Pirogov piloting and Barsov navigating they managed to make Austria.

A sergeant, who accompanied them but was not in on the plot, returned to Soviet custody.

The visa they obtained in Germany grants them a year's visit in this country but they were not certain whether State department officials would limit it.

52 Die In Plane Crash

ROME—(AP)—Rome's Ciampino airport rescue center said today it has been advised a British plane crashed this morning near Tripoli, in North Africa, killing all aboard.

The War Office in London said the ship—a chartered four-engine Skymaster — was believed to have about 40 army technicians aboard.

At Khartoum, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, from where the ship took off, officials said she carried 44 passengers and a crew of eight upon arrival from Nairobi, Kenya colony.

Skyways, Ltd. of London, which chartered the plane to the War Office, said it had received a message reporting the pilot killed but giving no other details.

State Launches Drive

Local Groups Act Voluntarily

The long-awaited crackdown on slot machines in taverns is ready, Liquor Permit Chief Francis K. Cole announced today. At the same time, The News-Journal learned that slot machines are being voluntarily removed from most Mansfield veterans' clubs and fraternal lodges.

Announcement of the removal of the "one-arm bandits" came from club and lodge officers in the wake of a statewide clean-up of the coin-swallowing machines from establishments holding liquor permit licenses.

Cole said 10 liquor permit holders, mainly in the Toledo area, who have listed slots with the Bureau of Internal Revenue for federal taxation have been requested to appear at a show cause hearing next Friday in Columbus.

Liquor enforcement officers from the state department were reported to have confiscated two slot machines from the Shelby American Legion post home Tuesday night. The slots, it was reported, were boarded up in an enclosure under the stairs in the Legion home. The machines are being held by the Shelby police department.

KNOWS NOTHING

Meanwhile, F. A. Hunter, assistant state liquor director in Columbus, who insisted he knew nothing of the token raid on the Shelby Legion home, told the News-Journal flatly:

"There will be no slot machines in any places in Ohio where liquor is licensed for sale.

"The law says the machines are illegal," Hunter continued, and the law will be enforced. As far as we're concerned, the law will be enforced throughout the entire state—there will be no exceptions!"

Hunter spoke in place of Liquor Director Oscar L. Fleckner who was out of the city at the time.

Through conversation with club and lodge officers, the N-J learned that slot machines were removed as much as a month ago from some clubrooms. Spokesmen painted the move as "playing safe" and "going along with the governor."

Gov. Frank K. Lausche ordered the wholesale clean-up of gambling in the state in his initial address to the legislature a couple of days after his inauguration.

Asked if liquor enforcement agents were "scouting" Mansfield, A. A. Rutkowski, chief of the enforcement division, state department of liquor control, said:

"To my knowledge there have been no reports on Mansfield."

He said the American Legion club case in Shelby would be prosecuted "after we get through with our backlog of 178 cases from last year."

While the clean-up of gambling was just getting underway, a small group of home-rule Republicans banded together today in an effort to stymie one of Governor Lausche's pet proposals—his request for power to remove sheriffs who do not enforce the gambling laws.

The group was spearheaded by Rep. Walter Penry (R-Delaware) who said he would not only fight against granting the governor more power, but might even attempt to curb the power the governor now has.

Wounded Veteran Faces Axis Sally

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An ex-GI who limps from his war wounds was recalled today for cross-examination on his story that "Axis Sally" posed as an angel of mercy to get nazi propaganda.

The witness, Gilbert Lee Hansford of Cincinnati, testified yesterday as a prosecution witness in the treason trial of Mildred E. Gillars. The Maine-born woman was known to wartime GI's as "Axis Sally."

Red Conspiracy In the U.S.A.

Red Youth Group Heads Stayed In White House

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the sixth article of a series examining the Communist conspiracy in the United States. Stripling was until recently the sparkplug of the committee that uncovered widespread communist espionage and propaganda.)

By ROBERT E. STRIPLING
(Edited by Bob Considine)

The wildest ideological scrambling we shall probably ever see was that occasioned by the signing of the Hitler-Stalin pact in August, 1939, and its subsequent rupture in 1941.

The House un-American activities committee found itself playing a stormy and often unwelcome role in this historic course-changing.

Criticism of the committee's inquiries into communism, including our important hearing in which Earl Browder acknowledged under oath that he had twice traveled on false passports, decreased after the pact-signing.

But when Germany invaded Russia, we again came under fire for calling attention to a conspiracy which had never and has never ceased.

In the months before the pact was signed, the committee found itself in possession of two very hot potatoes: the American Youth congress and American Student union—both since judged communist fronts by the attorney general.

Our difficulty in pursuing this inquiry into the youth movements rested mainly in our accidentally giving offense to Mrs. Roosevelt, who was steadfastly attached to both organizations.

Joe Lash, a kind of protege of the First Lady, headed the American Student union. Lash's good friend, Joe Cadden, headed the American Youth congress.

Rep. Jerry Voorhis (D.,

Escape Plot Revealed

Hungarian Cardinal Affirms Innocence

BUDAPEST—(INS)—Hungarian Primate Josef Mindszenty maintained his innocence today of charges that he is guilty of treason against Hungary's communist-led regime.

The cardinal, however, pleaded "partly guilty" to the "majority of deeds" of which the government accused him at the opening of his trial before a Budapest "peoples court."

Appearing pale and shaken, but otherwise physically fit, the primate was questioned for five straight hours yesterday. He stood erect throughout, speaking clearly and strongly into a microphone to explain his plea of "partly guilty."

The cardinal said that he had done most of the deeds ascribed to him, but explained that he had acted at a time when most of Europe believed a third World war was inevitable. In such an event, he told the court, he thought American intervention would lead to the collapse of the present Hungarian regime and he wished to be prepared for the restoration of the monarchy. But he added:

"I cannot accpet the charge which alleged that I organized a movement to destroy democratic order in this country."

The primate also admitted that he tried to get official American help to escape from prison only 11 days before the trial because "there is no other way out."

Faced with charges of treason, espionage, and black-market activity, the cardinal is liable to a death sentence or to long imprisonment.

Admitting the "escape plot," the cardinal acknowledged that he had written a letter to U. S. Minister to Hungary Selden Chapin asking for a "car and plane," and offered a $4,000 reward to the pilot.

A leading Hungarian Catholic has joined Cardinal Mindszenty in pleading innocent to treason charges.

Dr. Miklos Nagy, secretary of Hungary's Catholic Action organization, told the Budapest peoples' court, however, that he did speculate on the currency black market.

Nagy, one of six Catholics on trial with the cardinal, denied that treason was invoived.

U. S. Policy Towards Convicted Nazis Leading to Strong Reich

FREEDOM for the von Papens and Schachts and clemency for the Ilse Koches and Krupps are not mere isolated incidents. They are segments in the general pattern of appeasement calculated to revive Germany's power. . . .

Just a superficial knowledge of history will remind you that we are committing the same criminal folly that came in the wake of the initial World War. A clanking monster is being erected that has devoured many young Americans in the past—and might repeat its murderous rampage.

Nazism is riding high in the American zone. The cartelists are on the march. Nazi officials are gripping Germany's political set-up like a noose. And swastika-tainted industrialists are at the helm of the economic machine.

Nazism is being swept back to power on the rising tide of stupidity, indifference and downright skulduggery.

German deceit isn't the only danger. Just as perilous is the chicanery of some Americans. We refer to alleged Americans who can't see further than their own pockets. They have forgotten the cries of dying American soldiers—and hear only the clink of gold.

★

Germans have no regrets about the aims and methods of the Third Reich. The only thing they have against Hitler is that he lost the war. Nazism's resurgence proves it: In the American zone, 60 per cent of the judges and 76 per cent of the public prosecutors are former nazi party members. The same percentage exists among school teachers, businessmen and other community leaders.

Germany is being shaped in the image of Hitler's mad dreams.

A nation is as powerful as its industrial machine—from that stems its military might and diplomatic strength. The sad truth is that Germany's economic sinews are as potent today as they were when Hitler blackjacked his way to power.

One of our major war aims was the dissolution of German cartels. But the anti-cartel program was shattered several months ago—on the instructions by Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

If those handling the German occupation have any valid reasons for allowing the resurgence of nazism—let's hear them.

Maybe their arguments will enlighten us. Maybe their arguments will convince us. Maybe. But the American people have a right to know the facts.

Give them the truth—for they will be forced to pay the consequences. The American public has the right to know whether the billion dollars per annum they are spending in Germany—is buying for them another well-armed enemy.

Not-So-Funny Practical Jokers Have Become Thing of the Past

NEW YORK—(AP)—There's a fellow missing from the contemporary scene.

But there's some doubt if very many people miss him much. The fellow I'm talking about is the big ha-ha man of yesterday — the practical joker.

Whatever became of him?

Down what lost manhole has time drained him—the fellow who believed in "anything for a laugh?" Whatever became of his bag of stale tricks?

You remember him? He was the fellow who called you on the phone and said, "Hold the line a minute." Exactly 60 seconds later he'd ask sweetly, "Well, did you catch anything?" Then he'd bang the receiver in your outraged ear.

Yes, he was some prankster—the practical joker. At the office he'd leave a faked summons from the boss in your typewriter. He'd have his girl friend write a mash letter to your home signed "With all my love, Molly." He was the fellow who anonymously advised 30 different life insurance salesmen you wanted to buy a policy. And he saw that they all called on you at the same hour.

What a card! What a character!

There was nothing that was too much trouble for the old-fashioned practical joker. He worked harder to win a horse laugh than an ordinary man would to earn a pension.

One joker even went to the trouble of building an upside down hangover room in his home. When a guest became intoxicated and passed out, the poor fellow was dragged into this room and draped around a chandelier sticking up from the floor. A rug, tables and chairs had been fastened to the ceiling overhead. Imagine the plight of the startled guest when he woke up, head throbbing, and looked up. Picture his pitiful attempts to get "down" from the chandelier to the floor "above."

★

Well, somewhere along the way that kind of nonsense went out.

The loaded cigar and the hotfoot became obsolete. People still like to laugh. But today they want to laugh together more than then want to laugh at each other.

The trouble with the practical joker was that he usually put somebody on the pan. And a generation that has weathered a major depression and two world wars probably just got tired of seeing anybody on the pan. It ceased to be funny.

Here and there a fellow still sets a fire alarm bell off just to watch the firemen get some exercise. But if he does, nobody laughs.

The world has grown up too much to enjoy the cruel and hurtful practical jokes of the past. When the last practical joker is buried, it would be pleasant to put him under a nice tombstone bearing this epitaph:

"Having wonderful time. Wish you were here."

Nobody would begrudge him this last laugh—as long as we were sure it was his last one.

Polio Funds Far Behind '48 Figure

Enough Donated For Only One Case

Richland county's annual drive to raise funds with which to fight Infantile Paralysis headed toward its final week today with enough momey reported to care for just one case of polio, it was reported today by Marshall Moore, treasurer.

With the campaign scheduled to end next Friday, Feb. 11, Moore said that to date a total of $3,761.71 had been turned in to his headquarters, one-half of which is sent to the National Foundation to finance its program of research, education and aid to communities experiencing epidemic.

This leaves slightly more than $1,800 with which to carry on the work in the county, Moore said, and past records have shown that adequate care of just one severe case of poliomyelitis averages approximately $1,800.

Moore said today that Richland County Foundation officials had hoped the drive this year would bring in at least $8,000, the sum raised in 1948.

He explained that despite the fact the drive is scheduled to close next Friday, contributions may still be sent to him at his office in the Richland Trust building after that date. Shelby contributors are requested to mail their donations to the president of the Shelby Junior Chamber of Commerce, Forrest Ellis.

Found Dead At Home

Riley Campbell, 73, was found dead at his home, Hickory Lane, East Mansfield, Thursday afternoon by sheriff's deputies, who entered the home when a relative was unable to get into the house.

Mr. Campbell had been in poor health for several years. Howard Smith, a relative had been visiting him each afternoon to look after fire. Yesterday afternoon, Smith finding the house locked, summoned the sheriff's officers. When they entered the house, they found Mr. Campbell dead in bed. Dr. D. C. Lavender, Richland county coroner, said he had died about 4 a. m.

Mr. Campbell was employed at the old Aultman-Taylor company for years. After the closing of that plant, he was engaged in carpentering contracting, but retired several years ago.

His only survivors are nieces and nephews.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home where services will be held Saturday at 1.30 p. m., conducted by Rev. Carveth P Mitchell, pastor of the First Lutheran church, of which Mr Campbell was a member. Burial will be in the Lantz cemetery.

1,682 Voters Ruled Off Eligibility List

The registration cards of 1,682 voters in Mansfield and Madison township have been pulled from the files of the board of elections because the city and township residents had not voted in the past two years, Board Clerk Thomas R. Zeigler said today. For a registration to remain active, the voter must cast his ballot at least once every two years.

The breakdown shows that in Mansfield, 1,047 registered voters were taken off the board's lists That leaves 18,444 registered voters in the city of Mansfield.

In Madison township, there were 275 cards taken out of the files. No count has been made of the voters there now since Madison township voters will not go to the polls until November.

The board removes the cards every year at this time. Persons are beginning to register now that the May promaries are approaching, Zeigler said.

The primaries will be held on May 3. The last day for registration is March 24, or 40 days before the election, Zeigler said. However, transfers from one precinct to another can be made at the board of elections office up to April 5, he added.

Zeigler said legislation is before the state legislature to make the deadline for both new registrations and transfers 40 days before the primary. He said it is doubtful, however, that a new law will be passed before this year's primary.

Pupils Lead Police To Stolen Purse

A 10-year-old Bushnell school child yesterday led police to a discarded purse snatched on Jan. 29 by a thief who entered the home of Mrs. Alberta Amsbaugh, 187 East Fourth street.

Cloyd Miller, 10, of 296 North Main street, reported to his principal, John Bell, that he had found a woman's purse under the loading platform at the Weber Brewing company on East Temple court Bell called police and the child led officers back to the platform where they also found articles from the purse scattered about.

The purse was reported snatched from the dining room table in the Amsbaugh home while Mrs. Amsbaugh was asleep on a davenport in the living room. The thief, Mrs. Amsbaugh said, walked through an unlocked kitchen door into her home.

Sues Firm For $5,636

Contending the Ohio Fuel Gas company, of Mansfield, had damaged his property and had not carried out an agreement to pay for using the land, Alfred C. Fackler, of Shelby, R. D. 1, yesterday filed an action in common pleas court for $5,636.

Fackler said the company, in laying a new line on his property in Jackson township, used more land than that allowed under a previous easement agreement.

After he threatened to sue, the company agreed to pay him $3 per lineal rod for laying the new line and for damage to timber, but failed to do so, Fackler said in his petition, filed by Attorneys A. B. Mabee and C. H. Henkel.

In another suit, The Merchants and Manufacturers Mutual Insurance company, 55 North Mulberry street, sued the W. C. Gump company, of Shelby, for $650

The company contends it paid $1,000 in insurance to Oliver Mangrum, whose car was damaged in a fire at the Gump garage. The insurance company, represented by Attorneys Marriott and Freehafer, says it sold the car for $350 and asks the difference, $650.

Merger Gets First Nod

Church Council Suggests OK

General Council members of the Christian Congregational churches, meeting in Cleveland today, suggested approval of the proposed merger with the church in spite of the failure of individual Congregational churches throughout the country to ratify the question.

Since the Oberlin conference last summer, the question was again submitted to churches, which previously had returned a vote of only 65 percent in favor of the merger. The vote increased only to 72 2 per cent during the intervening months but sources close to the Commission of Interchurch Relations say that commission members will suggest approval of the merger in their report at Cleveland.

Rev. Matthew G. Madden, pastor of the First Congregational church, is attending the conference today as a delegate. Both the First and the Mayflower congregational churches have approved of the proposed merger. The St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church here, had previously approved the project and all Synods of the E. and R. church voted favorably last spring.

Should the merger be carried through today at Cleveland, it will affect about 9,000,000 church members of the two congregations.

Up and Down the Street . . .

JUST LIKE HOME—

Visitors at the county jail have been warned these past few days about leaning against or touching newly-painted surfaces. The jail office recently has been painted black and white, and the paint has been slow drying because of the damp weather. Most of the deputies can exhibit places on their clothing and persons where they've inadvertently leaned against some wet paint. They all think it's been worth the trouble, however, because the office has a bright new look. The new look is in keeping with the new uniforms and the shiny new badges most deputies are sporting.

AUCTION AIDS FUND—

The meeting of the Richland County Fish and Game Protective association turned into an auction sale for a few minutes last night. One of the members contributed a small axe to be sold to the highest bidder with the funds going into the group's new wildlife refuge. A top bid of $4.50 won the axe.

ICE TOO THIN—

Mansfield's ice skating enthusiasts will have little opportunity for demonstrating figure eights this weekend, according to Frank Burton, city parks superintendent. He said today the ice on the city park lakes is unsafe. Park officials had planned to turn on the lights at Liberty and North Lake parks last night, Burton said, but the ice was too thin.

Payments For Year Revealed

Emphasis Placed On Soil Saving

The 1949 Richland county farm plans under the federal Triple-A program are ready for the signatures of farmers who must indicate by April 1 whether they will comply, county AAA Chairman Guy Taylor said today.

The Triple-A has approved 12 soil conservation practices for the county and set up the amounts farmers will be paid for carrying out the practices, Taylor said.

Letters went out today to 3,500 farmers informing them that the new farm plans are ready to be filled out and they must be completed by April 1.

LISTS PRACTICES

The approved practices and the amount they pay are:

Contouring intertilled crops, $1.50 per acre; contouring seeding, 75 cents per acre; establishing contour strips, $1.50 per acre; establishing sod waterways, 25 cents per 1,000 square feet; green manure crop (plowing down rye or sweet clover), $1.50 per acre; mulching materials on vegetable land or orchard, $4 per ton;

Liming material, $1.70 and $4 per ton; fertilizer on pasture, payments depend on analysis used; mowing pasture, 50 cents per acre; construction of open farm ditches, 10 cents per cubic yard; tile drainage, 40 cents per cubic yard; tree planting, $1 per 100 trees.

Taylor said part of the actual cost of carrying out these practices will be paid by the federal government if the practices are applied by farmers in accordance with the soil-building requirements.

In 1947 payments were made on 31,607 tons of limestone meal, and 735 tons of hydrated lime which was applied to the land. Assistance also was given on 321 tons of superphosphate which was applied to pasture lands. The 1948 figures are still unavailable.

Draws Fine For Carrying Gun

A 28-year-old Shelby man, arrested by police early today for carrying a .25 calibre revolver, was fined $100 and costs in municipal court when he confessed to carrying concealed weapons. Police ordered the gun confiscated.

Officers said the Shelby resident, Samuel M. Sterling, was arrested at Fourth and Main streets at 12.50 a.m. today after police were "tipped off" that three men were arguing at the corner and one had a gun.

Three officers, detailed to the scene, searched Sterling and found the gun.

New Water Rumor Hit

LOUDONVILLE—Rumors here today that all water must be boiled before use brought prompt denial from Dr. C. D. Meuser, Ashland county health director. The health official said the water was safe as long as the chlorinator at the municipal water plant performs satisfactorily.

Dr. Meuser's report was in four parts: Loudonville water is safe after chlorination. 2—Water at the plant shows contamination by baccilli coli before chlorination. 3—Recommendations will be made direct to city officials until the situation is cleared up. 4—The Ashland county health department will check bacterial content of the water twice a week, starting next week. Prompt telephone reports are promised if contamination occurs.

The state health department has been checking the bacterial content of the water since illness was contracted by 1,000 citizens last month. The two-feet proximity of a sewer to the well producing the city water was blamed for the contamination. Dr. Meuser said the water line must be moved.

Dr. Meuser says his county office will make checks next Monday, Wednesday and either Friday or Saturday. Water samples were forwarded yesterday to the state health department for analysis.

County Vets, Next of Kin, Paid $2,162,247 By State

Richland county veterans or their next of kin were paid $2,182,247 in state bonuses to Feb. 1, it was announced today by C. W. Goble, director of the World War II Compensation fund. The 7,161 claims from Richland county averaged $304.74 each.

A total of 5,107 army claimants were paid $1,600,368 and 2,054 navy claimants were paid $581,878.

The number of claims in Morrow county was 891, and $261,633 was paid. Ashland county veterans or next of kin were paid $744,699 on 2,478 claims. Crawford county received $918,025 on 3,026.

A total of 816 claims from Holmes county collected $244,719; 2,938 Huron county claims paid $892,665; and 2,495 Knox county claims paid $752,768.

Unpaid bonus applicants can help the World War II Compensation fund expedite the payment of their claims by following carefully the instructions mailed to them, Goble stated.

He said 641,679 living veterans and 12,982 next of kin of 9,040 deceased Ohio veterans were paid a total of $201,890,837 between April 28, 1948 and Feb. 1, 1949.

Applications may be filed until June 30, 1950.

Current applications, some 71,000 irregular claims from living veterans, some 12,400 next of kin claims and several thousand approved claims now in the check-writing process remain to be settled.

In handling next of kin claims, Goble stated a determination is made at the time of the initial examination as to the additional proof necessary in each case and the required forms are sent out at that time. He especially urged next of kin applicants to follow instructions carefully and to seek the aid of Veterans Service officers when furnishing requested information.

Tygers Battle at Ashland; Rams Play at Home

Game Rated Even On Ashland Floor

Barring tournament play, the basketball teams of Ashland and Mansfield Senior high school will conclude their 1949 warfare tonight on the McDowell auditorium floor in Ashland.

Both principals in one of Ohio's longest court feuds are rarin' to go but Coach C. E. Taylor of the A's may have to switch his starting lineup at the last moment. Bud Jones, Ashland's 6-3 center, went limping through last night's practice session with a pulled leg muscle.

Taylor said this morning that he will wait until nearly game time before making a change, if one is needed. The Ashland coach wants to give the leg every chance to mend. Jones connected for 10 points when Mansfield defeated the A's, 56 to 40, earlier in the season.

If Jones is unable to go, Guard Ray Bates will be moved to center with Lew Russell entering the game at guard. Other Ashland starters are Phil Lersch, Doug Shilliday and Norm McVicker. Lersch was the top scorer in the first tussle with 19 markers.

75TH CHAPTER

Tonight's battle will be the 75th in the long series with the Tygers holding a 39 to 35 advantage. So far this season, Ashland has won 10 and lost three while Senior high has nine wins and five losses.

Even though the Tygers won the first 1949 game handily, tonight's battle must be regarded as a toss-up. Ashland is well nigh invincible on its home floor, having won 17 straight in the gym-auditorium.

Coach Vern Hoffman's Bengals all seem in good condition. He will rely on the same five-some which hung the first beating on the A's. That would put Ed Demyan and Jimmy Anderson at forwards; Norb Shibinski at center and Paul Ferguson and Ken McCally at guards.

ONLY TWO AWAY

The Tygers have been able to win only twice in seven games away from home. The last defeat absorbed by Ashland at home was recorded by the 1946-47 Mansfield quintet.

★

Tyger sophomores will battle the Ashland junior varsity in the preliminary test at 7 p. m. In the first meeting between the "sub" outfits, Ashland won 35-28. It was the first defeat of the season for the Bengal cubs.

★

Reports from Ashland this morning say that some 300 tickets will go on sale at McDowell auditorium today at 6:30 p. m. Reserved seat tickets are one dollar and General admission will go for 75 cents.

★

Ashland's radio station, WATG-FM, will carry a play-by-play account of the game starting at 8 p. m.

Fox Hunters Change Drive To Newville

The weekly hunt of the Richland county Fox Hunters originally scheduled for Bellville will be held at Newville tomorrow, according to association officials.

The hunters will meet at the church at 8:45 a. m. and be driven to the lines by area farmers.

In order to avoid confusion this week, there will be four captains on each line with each of the four driving lines being assigned a color.

In a previous hunt at Newville the drivers killed seven foxes, the largest number on any hunt this year.

Lunch will be served by ladies of the church, and afternoon hunters will be met at the church and escorted to the site selected for the afternoon drive following the meal.

OWLS GO FREE

Officers of the fox hunting group said today the hunters will be asked to let owls go free inasmuch as they destroy rodents which destroy grain for farmers.

Despite the large number of hunters who have appeared in the past, the association has urged that all interested join in tomorrow's hunt to become acquainted with the group.

Proceeds from the bounty on any foxes killed by these hunters are used in feeding and restocking Richland county game.

Rivals Meet At Perrysville

Top Class B game in the area tonight is set for Perrysville where the high-scoring Admirals will entertain their traditional opponent, Loudonville.

It will be the final game of the season for Perrysville which has won 15 and lost four games. Ashland county tournament play starts next week.

Huron county league play will close with Greenwich at Wakeman Townsend at New Haven and North Fairfield at New London. Monroeville leads the loop with five victories and one defeat but New Haven can share the title by winning tonight.

In the Crawford county loop, Leesville opposes Mt Union at Crestline. Whetsone is at Tiro, Chatfield entertains North Robinson, Holmes-Liberty invades Sulphur Springs, Lykans visits New Washington.

SKATE OR SWIM?—Heavy rains prior to the Great Lakes skating meet at Milwaukee almost turned the event into a swimming meet. Karen Mattson of St. Paul, contesting for the lead, slipped and fell into the water (background) as Bunny Koch of Chicago carried on to victory. This event was a 220-yard race.

Undefeated Ontario Meets Lexington In Top Contest

The Ontario Warriors, undefeated in 11 starts in Richland county league play, will go after No. 12 tonight when they entertain the fast-breaking Lexington Minutemen.

Lexington has practically no hopes of overtaking the Warriors for the county loop championship but can keep alive its mathematical possibility with an upset. The Minutemen are three games back with three to go.

Ontario won the first meeting of the two schools, 38-34, on the Lexington court.

Meanwhile, Bellville, the one team with hopes of catching Ontario, will invade Shiloh for a contest with the cellar-dwelling Drummer Boys.

Bellville is only two games off the pace and has games left with Ontario and Lucas. Ontario has Bellville and Union left on the two remaining weeks.

Fourth-place Lucas is host to Butler tonight while Union travels to Plymouth. The first time around Bellville beat Shiloh, 57-23; Lucas beat Butler, 46-30, and Union took Plymouth, 34-33.

Tharp Chosen To Head Hot Stove Group

Fred Tharp, News-Journal sports editor, last night was re-elected president of the Mansfield chapter of the National Hot Stove league at a meeting in the City building.

Tharp, who is also Hot Stove junior baseball chairman for the state of Ohio, has headed the local organization of sport boosters since it was founded a year ago. Other officers selected last night were: Gene Hartnett, vice president; Stan Kamen, secretary and Harry Ackerman, treasurer.

The Hot Stovers broke into the Mansfield sports scene in a big way last summer by sponsoring one of the finest junior baseball programs in Ohio. Plans are already under way to make the program even better in 1949. John Fike, Fred Rizzo and Aid Geiger were named to a committee to set up the junior program.

Approximately 1,700 Mansfielders were a part of the Hot Stove movement last year. The 1949 membership drive will begin shortly after the basketball season ends.

One other committee was appointed last night. Jimmy Lymper, Senior high school baseball and Johnny Appleseed coach; Dewey Durant, manager of the American Legion junior baseball team and Fred LaRue, who assists Lymper with Appleseed sports, make up a promotion group.

They will bring prominent baseball personalities here for diamond clinics this summer.

CHICAGO—(UP)—Ben Lindheimer, chairman of the all America football conference executive committee, said today that "There will definitely be eight teams in the league in 1950."

Lindheimer said that two cities had expressed interest in obtaining a franchise in the AAC, but that they were turned down for the 1949 season because of lack of time for organization.

"We will operate in 1949 with the seven-team setup approved at our recent meeting here," he said.

Minnesota Invades Ohio State

CHICAGO — (AP) — The scramble for the Western Conference basketball championship will be resumed tomorrow with high-flying Minnesota, current leader, invading Ohio State in the top attraction of a three-game league program.

The Gophers, with both Jim McIntyre and Whitey Skoog making two-man runaway race of Big Nine scoring honors thus far, go to Columbus with a record of six league victories and one defeat. The Buckeyes (3-3) are in a percentage tie for fourth place with Michigan (2-2). In the race for individual honors McIntyre has 112 points and Skoog has 111.

In another top feature, runner-up Illinois (4-1) goes to Wisconsin (1-3) where the seventh place Badgers will attempt to avenge a 62 to 50 setback by the Illini at Champaign Jan. 3. In the third game defending champion Michigan will attempt to make it two straight victories for the season over last-place Northwestern (1-4) in the opening game of a collegiate double-header in Chicago stadium. The Wolverines downed the Wildcats, 53 to 40, three weeks ago.

In the second game De Paul of Chicago will be seeking its 12th victory in 19 games this season when the Blue Demons play host to Indiana. The Hoosiers are in sixth place in the Big Nine race with two triumphs and three losses

★

COLUMBUS — Ohio State's basketball quintet, out of the running for the Big Nine title, hope to throw a monkey wrench into the title hopes of the league-leading Gophers

It will be a case of the top offensive unit in the league-Ohio state with an average of 58.5 against the top defense with an average in that department of 30.6.

Ohio should be loose and sharp against the Gophers, who will be under terrific pressure to maintain their slim one-game Big Nine lead over the pressing Illini

The Buckeyes, with dandy Dick Schnittker right, could be murder on their own floor and Coach Tippy Dye admits "that they're (the bucks) looking pretty good again."

Whole Town Will Watch 'Big' Game

The population of Fredericktown is 1,200 but only 200 will be home tomorrow night.

The other thousand and about 500 "foreigners" will be crowded into the Kenyon college field house some 12 miles away to root for the Fredericktown high basketball team in its game with Lima St. Rose.

Of course, Fredericktown has a game tonight with Bladensburg but only a small percentage of the population will be able to crowd into the Fredericktown gym. The rest are content to wait until tomorrow and drive 12 miles to see the "big" game.

TOUGHEST TEAM

The Lima team without question will be the toughest team Fredericktown has played. Actually the Freddies have played no powerful opponents, but have gained much of their prestige by beating several good Class A elevens in practice scrimmages.

Fredericktown won its 19th straight Tuesday over Marion St. Mary's, 55-31.

The Kenyon field house seats about 1,400, but ample standing room space is available and it is highly unlikely that anyone will be turned away. Eight hundred tickets have already been sold to Fredericktown residents and another 200 to go today. Some 300 ducats were sent to Lima and it is expected that many of these will be returned.

Doors open at 6 p. m. and the reserve game is set for 7.

School 'Blade' Event Is Off

On-again, off-again seems to be the story behind Mansfield's ice carnivals.

Just yesterday Harry Mehock's public school meet was put back on the books for Saturday. Now the ice at North Lake park is under water and the school "blades" show has been postponed again. Mehock says he will hold the meet on the first good day.

Frank Burton, park superintendent, said this morning, "It seems with the day-to-day changing of the ice conditions that the school carnival and the News-Journal Silver Skates may have to be cancelled."

A definite decision on the N-J event will be made the first of next week.

Penn Auto Cinches Tie In City League

The City A basketball league will have a new champion in the second half season, it was assured last night.

First half champion Ohio Sport Center fell before Rogers Jewelry, 42-40, at John Simpson, for its third defeat. Rogers, by its victory, took over second place and remained the only team with a chance of tying Penn-Auto for the second half title.

First and second half winners meet for the league championship Feb. 14.

In other games last night Richland Beverage turned back Martin Hardware, 45-33, and Urschel Insurance defeated Yunckers, 59-41. Bob Nikolaus was the leading scorer of the night with 18 points for Urschel's.

Norwalk Plays Bucyrus 5 In NOL Feature

There's only one Northern Ohio league game on tonight's slate but it rates as one of the most important of the season.

Norwalk plays at Bucyrus and the winner will go into undisputed possession of first place in the loop. The two clubs are now tied for the top spot with four victories in five starts.

Loser of the contest will go into a tie with Bellvue for second place as no other league games are booked for tonight. Bellevue, holder of a four-two loop record, entertains Port Clinton. The Bellevue team is defending champion.

In other contests, Marion Harding plays at Galion, Crestline at Mansfield Madison and Ada at Upper Sandusky.

Mangrum Leads Golf Play By 1

TUCSON, Ariz., —(AP)—Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, who made $5 for each competitive stroke in 1948, starts today's second round of the $10,000 Tucson open golf tourney with a one-stroke lead.

Tough breaks on the greens couldn't stop the winner of the recent Los Angeles open from carding a six under par 64 in the first round yesterday.

Crestliners Try Repeat At Madison

Madison high's revitalized basketball team will be out to avenge a ten-day-old defeat tonight when it is host to Crestline in the Madison high gym. Reserve game is set for 7:30 p. m.

Although losing a one-pointer to Shelby Tuesday, the Rams have played greatly improved basketball in their last two games. Their last home game was a 62-60 conquest of Columbus Linden-McKinley.

LOSE ONLY ONE

Madison has lost only one of six home games while compiling an overall record of seven victories and six defeats. They have won only from New London and Mt. Vernon on the road.

One thing that will be against the Rams tonight is the adaptability of the Madison gym to a tall team. Crestline's center, Johnny Johnson, stands around six-four which is a good four inches taller than any Madison player.

The two teams played on practically even terms last week after Crestline built an early lead. The Rams finally lost, 47-45, when they missed a last second lay-up. Forward Jim Brightbill missed most of that game as he was recovering from a cold.

CHELSKI IS LEADER

He will be in the lineup tonight along with Ray "Dutch" Bader at the other forward, Joe Distl at center and Larry Secrist and the high-scoring Ed Chelski at guards. Chelski, by notching 29 and 17 points in his last two games, has boosted his average to just under the 14 point per game mark.

Cincy Signs Four Players

CINCINNATI, — (AP) — Four more members of the Cincinnati Reds signed on the dotted line today for the 1949 baseball season. Today's signed contracts brought to 26 the number received thus far by the Reds' front office.

One of those who agreed to terms today was Virgil Stallcup, regular short-stop for the Redlegs in the 1948 season. Stallcup, a resident of Honea Path, S.C., hit only .228 for Cincinnati last year but he turned in a very respectable record of 65 runs batted in.

Another signer was Ed Erautt, right-handed pitcher, who won 14 and lost 7 while on option to Syracuse last year. Erautt won four and lost nine with the Reds in 1947.

Steve Filipowicz, an outfielder with Sunbury of the interstate league last year, and John Pramesa, a catcher drafted from Jersey City, were the others who sent in signed contracts.

The juvenile court complaint alleges he induced the 17-year-old girl to visit at his home in the absence of his wife and took her to public places. The girl is held in jail for failing to observe a previous order of the court. No hearing has been set.

3—In Memoriam

IN MEMORY of Mrs. Inez Diskosky who passed away 5 years today.
SENT to HEAVEN
I had a message to send her
To her Whom my Soul Loves best.
But I had my task to finish
And she had gone to Rest.
To rest in far bright heaven
Oh so far away from here
It was Vain to speak to my darling
For I know she could not hear
I had a message to send her
So tender and true and sweet.
I long for an angel to bear it
And lay it down at her feet
I place it one summer evening
On a little white cloud's breast
But it faded in golden splendor
And died in crimson west.
I gave it the lark next morning
And I watched it Soar and soar
But its pinions grew faint and Weary
And it fluttered to earth once more
I cried in my passionate longing
Has the earth no angel friend
Who will carry my love the message
My heart desires to send.
H. P. Diskosky

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Dems, GOP Array Forces for Fight on Ferguson Act Repeal

Opposition To Repeal Mounting

New Bargaining Bill Considered

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Opposition mounted today in the Ohio House to quick repeal of the Ferguson act banning strikes by public employes.

Republicans came out flatly against repeal. Democratic leaders expressed a desire to wait until a law replacing the Ferguson act could be drafted.

"It will be the policy of the Republican minority in the house to oppose repeal," C. William O'Neill of Marietta, House G.O.P. leader, said in a prepared statement.

Democratic spokesmen requesting anonymity said they were considering a collective bargaining bill to replace the Ferguson act.

Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche turned aside questions about his stand on the repealer. He is known to have conferred with House leaders on the question, however. Lausche said he might have a statement later. He has expressed opposition to strikes against government.

The Ferguson repealers was rushed through the House Labor committee after only two hearings Tuesday and Wednesday. A battery of top-flight Ohio union officials insisted on fast action. Measures customarily get three hearings in committee.

The committee also recommended passage of a bill requiring the state and its subdivisions to "recognize the rights of employes to affiliate with or join labor organizations."

Both measures were recommended by votes of 9 yes to 5 no. One Republican joined eight Democrats in support of repeal. The five no votes came from Republicans.

Some of the Republican opponents expressed concern lest repeal of the Ferguson act open the door to strikes paralyzing public services.

Under House rules, the Ferguson repealer would come to a vote by the full membership Tuesday with prospect for passage clouded.

Democratic leaders said they were considering an attempt to create a calendar committee to hold the repealer for a later vote. This would be tried Monday under suspension of rules when the legislature returns from its weekend adjournment

Judge Cramer Asks Welfare Unification, Raps 'Jangling'

Stewart added that the commissioners hoped they had found such a man in the recently appointed relief director, Harvey W. Burghard. He said Burghard was reluctant to take on the coordination task until he had acquired further experience in his present job and therefore the county was marking time.

Judge Cramer joined Stewart in praising Burghard.

He asked Robert Canary, Columbus, chief of the division of social administration of the State Welfare department, if a man of Burghard's experience would meet civil service qualifications since a public welfare director is a civil service employe responsible to the commissioners.

Canary said many factors would have to be taken into consideration but that the principal one was eight years in an administrative position.

(A Public Welfare department would coordinate the work of the Aid to the Blind, Aid to Dependent Children, and Poor Relief. Applicants for all forms of help except Soldiers and Sailors relief would be handled through a central office. The Child Welfare department could become a party of the county welfare unit voluntarily, with the consent of the board.)

Present from Columbus, besides Canary, was John R. Ferguson who has just been promoted fro mthe job Canary now holds to that of chief of the Division of Juvenile Research He is the husband of Mrs Virginia Ferguson who, with Miss Mary Jane Paumier, made a survey of the county's welfare program last summer

At the last meeting of the County Child Welfare board this survey had been criticized by other members of the board when Millard H. Pryor proposed endorsement of its recommendations as condensed by the County Child Welfare council.

Last night's meeting was called to explore those criticisms. At the conclusion of the session George Stelts, welfare board chairman, said the critics were now satisfied with the adequacy of the survey. He declared principal objection of the protesting members was that the survey had not taken into consideration conditions, prior to the time of the check-up, which welfare employes were then trying to improve.

Prime point of controversy at the earlier meeting had been the recommendation to employ an executive secretary for the Child Welfare board. It was this issue that, apparently, caused a three-to-two vote against acceptance of the Welfare Council's recommendations.

Another major suggestion was the stepping-up of placing children in boarding homes with the aim of eventually abandoning the county children's home. This suggestion got a brush-off in last night's discussion.

Representing the County Welfare council at the meeting were Vernon Lawrence, chairman, and Scott F. Coffin.

Flames Destroy Home Near Savannah

ASHLAND — A community shower is being held at Savannah for the family of Glenn Gray, Mansfield Westinghouse plant employe, whose home one-half mile east of Savannah was destroyed by fire Wednesday.

Gray, his wife and their five children escaped the blaze but lost the new home, recently built by Gray himself, together with all furnishings, clothing, canned goods and other contents.

Gray, who works at night at the Westinghouse plant, was away at the time of the blaze but Mrs. Gray and the children were on the first floor when the mother discovered the entire second floor ablaze.

The children, two girls, seven and nine, two boys, 12 and 15 and a six-months old baby were herded out of the house by Mrs. Gray. The Savannah fire department arrived shortly afterwards but was unable to save the house or contents.

Gray had only recently completed an addition to the seven-room house.

Community residents have organized a shower with interested persons to leave donations of household furnishings, canned goods and clothing for the children at the Lindsay garage in Savannah. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Firemen believe the blaze started in the chimney.

Announces Job Exams

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Mansfield civil service secretary, Georg- H. Hoover, at the Mansfield post office.

The age limit, 62 years, will be waived for persons entitled to veteran preference. This age limit also will be waived for certain war service indefinite employes who are serving in positions which would be filled from the eligible register resulting from this examination.

Applications for positions of chief social worker, P-3|4, and chief and assistant chief social worker, P-4, will be received until Feb. 16. Applications for social worker, P-2, and case supervisor, P-3, will be received until the needs of the service have been met.

Coal Offices Burglarized

Two coal company offices on Surry road were found burglarized and ransacked early today by police on routine patrol of the area.

At 12:40 a. m. police found the east window at the Kent Rummel Coal company, 50 Surry road, broken out with a piece of coal and the office ransacked. Officers said the intruders left through the front door. Rummel today reported only a flashlight missing.

At approximately the same time, police found the Economy Coal company office at 36 Surry road entered by the same method. A spokesman for the company said nothing was found missing.

Spokesmen for both companies said today that money is never left in the offices over night.

Iberia Co-Ed Flees ONU Dormitory Fire

IBERIA—Mary Lou Vail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Thacher here, was one of the last girls to flee burning Turner Hall, freshman girls' dormitory on the Ohio Northern university campus in Ada early Wednesday. The dormitory, a frame building built in 1838 and possessing valuable woodwork, was destroyed at an estimated loss of $60,000.

Miss Vail, and her roommate Carol Ramsey of Lima, bumped into a wardrobe as they fled with hastily gathered personal belongings. It toppled over on the girls, delaying their departure.

Fires blocked their exit by the front stairs so they groped their way to the rear stairway and reached outdoors to hear a crowd of ONU students yelling:

"Save Mary Lou and Carol."

Miss Crasts, an OSU instructor and dormitory housemother, lost a thesis in the fire she had spent two years in preparation. Some of the girl residents lost all personal effects while others did salvage a few in their flight.

Mrs. Thatcher motored to Ada yesterday and spent most of the day in Lima purchasing a new wardrobe for Mary Lou.

9-Township Court Shapes

COLUMBUS—(INS)—The bill to establish a municipal court for the city of Ashland and nine surrounding townships was introduced in the House of Representatives yesterday by Rep. J. Frank McClure (R. Ashland).

The bill provides for a one judge court having jurisdiction in misdemeanor cases and in civil cases involving not more than $300 in the city and in Montgomery, Clearcreek, Jackson, Mifflin, Milton, Mohican, Orange, Perry and Vermillion townships.

The judge, to be elected this November for a full year term, would be required to have at least four years practice before the bar. He would receive a minimum salary of $1,990 including $600 from the city and $150 from each of the townships.

The judge would be permitted to continue in private practice in all cases not involving his court.

Snow Seen In Offing

A temporary respite from the cold wave which hit Mansfield earlier in the week is about over, the weatherman said today. The forecast for tonight was colder with possible snow flurries. Saturday will be mostly cloudy and moderately cold.

According to the CAA station at the airport yesterday's and today's temperatures in Mansfield were in the mid-thirties, with the mercury going as high as 38 yesterday afternoon. The low for the past 24 hours was 33 at 10:30 this morning. In the 24 hours ended at 7:30 a. m. today .05 inches of rain had fallen.

The state highway department reported few roads closed by high water today but primary roads slushy and slippery in the northwestern portion of the state.

Asks $4,000 For Assault

A petition for a $4,000 judgment against Edward M. Gabriel and Frederick R. Gabriel, 409 West Fifth street, was filed in common pleas court yesterday by Stephen E. Leslie, 381 West Fifth street. The judgment is sought for damages Leslie said he received as a result of being assaulted, struck and beat last Christmas eve.

Leslie contended he was injured to the extent of $3,000 when he was assaulted by both defendants. He also asked $1,000 for punitive damages.

A suit filed in municipal court last month by Leslie against Gabriels was withdrawn yesterday. Earlier the defendants were each fined $15 and costs for assault and battery on Leslie's complaint.

Oils and Steels Lead Quick Drop In Stock Mart Trading

NEW YORK —(AP)— The stock market took a sudden turn for the worse shortly before noon today.

Steel and Oil shares were the first to decline but weakness soon spread to other groups. Losses ranged from fractions to more than 2 points before prices levelled off.

A cut in the dividend rate by Creole Petroleum helped to hamstring demand. More than 90 per cent of Creole capital stock is owned by Standard Oil (NJ).

Creole traded on the curb, lost around 2 points. On the big board Standard Oil (NJ) was marked down a point or so, Skelly and Mission corporation dropped 2, and Superior Oil of California lost 2½.

City's Fire Loss Light In January

The fire department had a "good" month in January, answering 36 alarms and limiting property damage to $4,830, Fire Chief L. J. Steele's monthly report showed today.

This compares favorably with the same month last year when 62 alarms were answered and property damage during the month totaled $8,675.

The department laid 1,050 feet of hose last month, drove 156 miles, spent 45 hours fighting fires, two of which were outside the city limits.

Brick Tossing Proves Error

ALEXANDRIA, VA. — (INS) — James Lewis is under treatment today for a gunshot wound in the part he tried to get over the fence last.

He had been washing a car for Tom Jones and kept it longer than Jones thought right. Lewis returned the car after Jones complained to police, then fled when he saw two policemen waiting.

He ran up against a fence, stopped to toss a brick at the pursuing police, then started climbing.

All but the part that goes over last was clear when one of the officers fired.

Bankbooks, Pistol Reported Missing

Mrs. Myrtle Johnson, 261½ North Main street, reported to police last night that three bankbooks and a .32 calibre pistol were stolen from her home.

Mrs. Johnson told officers she suspected a woman who roomed at her home and who had left Tuesday. She said the bankbooks and the pistol were kept under the mattress in the woman's room.

Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch yesterday was sworn into his new term by Clerk of Courts Howard Wenning. Judge Kalbfleisch was re-elected to a six-year term last Nov. 2. His new term will begin next Wednesday.

Farm Dollar Declines to 40-Year Low

1948 Purchasing Power Toboggans

COLUMBUS — Dollars in the farmer's pocket were worth less at the close of 1948 than at any time in the past 40 years, Extension farm management specialists at Ohio State university declared today in commenting on the purchasing power of the farmer's income.

"The farmer can buy only as much goods with one dollar as he could buy with 42 cents in the years 1910-14 or with 48 cents in 1935-39," they said.

Figuring another way, the economist explains, this means a farmer must spend about $2.40 today to buy as much goods as he could buy with one dollar 40 years ago, or $2.10 to get as much as one dollar would buy 10 years ago.

In 1948, the farmer was making an average of about $3.40 net income for every dollar he made in 1935-39. Therefore, if the farmer spends his money now about as fast as it comes in, he can buy 60 per cent more goods than he could 10 years ago. Industrial workers are making about $3.58 now for each dollar they made in 1935-39, enabling them to buy about 70 per cent more goods.

If prices farmers receive for most products decline slightly in 1949, while prices they must pay for goods and services continue to rise as indicated, the farmer's purchasing power can drop even more, the specialist stated. This, they said, will make it important that every farmer operate his business as efficiently and economically as possible.

'Cheesecake' Battle Flares On Campus

A Mansfield student at Ohio State university today was the center of a campus controversy on "pin-up leg art," it was learned from Columbus.

Lee Adams, of 563 Garfield place, editor of the Ohio State Daily Lantern, started the argument when he charged in an editorial that another student publication, "Big Magazine on Campus," isn't "justifiable on the campus" because of its "pin-up leg art."

"Big Magazine On Campus" editors replied that the editorial was "unjust," and stated that Lantern Editor Adams "never had any experience on a pictorial magazine" and was editing a "partially school-subsidized paper."

Adams' editorial had stated that the BMOC cover was "cheesecake," that only 17 of its 32 pages were devoted to stories and non-leg pictures, and that the magazine was indulging in "obvious frantic efforts to boost circulation."

Dick Desmond, editor of the pictorial publication, in answering Adams' charges that the current issue was devoted "entirely to pictures of co-eds with pretty smiles and prettier legs," added that "Adams had read the BMOC publication from cover to cover."

Scout Program Opens Monday

A new program to train new and old Girl Scout council members in the fundamentals of the organization and the part they play in making Scouting available to all Mansfield girls, will be inaugurated at Scout headquarters, South Franklin avenue, Monday.

The training course is scheduled to start at 9:30 a. m., and continue until 4 p. m., with members bringing their own luncheons.

Miss Margaret Rooney, executive secretary of the organization, will conduct the training program, during which Mrs. Howard Wenning will show slide films of the activities of various Girl Scout troops.

150 Persons Attend Ganges Christian Endeavor Banquet

SHELBY —Approximately 150 persons observed the 68th anniversary of the Christian Endeavor at a banquet at the Ganges Community church last night.

Highlighting the affair was the speech given by Rev. Robert DeMass whose subject was "Launch Out for Christian Endeavor" using the parable of the fisherman to express his point.

The group consisting of members from Bellevue, Lexington, Mansfield, Shelby, Ganges, Plymouth and Shenandoah were entertained with a well planned program of talks, group singing, songs and music.

Rev. Harlan Miller was the host pastor of the banquet which was sponsored by the Richland County Union.

Harold Sands of Plymouth gave a report on the state convention to be held in Canton on June 23 through the 26th and Patsy Pugh gave an outline on the state convention registration contest.

The Junior Christian society of Lexington entertained the group with a medley of songs.

The balance of the program included songs, led by Mrs. Carl Hipsher, Shelby; devotions, led by Mrs. Harold Sands: pianist, Ethel Workman; trumpet by Parker Hawk, accompanied by Mary Jo Hawk, with Don Sullivan as toastmaster.

Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Adams of Scott, Ohio. Mr. Adams is state vice president for this district. Hazel Mitchell presented the finance campaign for Richland county establishing a goal of $525 to be appropriated for the State Union.

The committee for the banquet was headed by Mrs. John Gray and consisted of the following members: Patsy Pugh, Lorene Bonecutter, Janice Cooper, Esther Price and Hazel Mitchell.

The ladies of the Ganges Aid society served the banquet under the supervision of Mrs. Dwight Briggs, president.

Death Toll Reaches 137

(By United Press)

Seventeen western states today reported a total of 137 persons dead as result of the bad weather since New Year's day.

Clear skies permitted the Army, Air Force and Navy to rush rescue work in areas isolated by the towering drifts of snow covering the range states from the Canadian border almost to old Mexico.

Texas had the greatest number of deaths attributable to the weather, 33. Nebraska had 22. Wyoming 13, and Missouri 12. Utah and Washington reported nine each, Colorado eight, and Oregon seven. New Mexico and Nevada had five each, South Dakota four, Kansas three, Montana and Oklahoma two each, and Arizona, California and Iowa one each.

The weather forced the Western Livestock Insurance company of Denver out of Business. Secretary-Treasurer Del Vanfilder said the firm had paid out so many claims to ranchers who lost stock in the January blizzards that it was forced to the wall.

Several Contests In May Primaries

NOW THAT the formality of filing petitions of candidacy for city offices is out of the way, with the primaries still three months ahead, it seems unlikely that local political interest will reach any very high point for the next couple of months.

It is probable, however, that the several contests offered on both the Republican and Democratic tickets will finally tend to arouse public interest to the extent of bringing a good turnout of voters at the May 3 primaries.

Both parties, for instance, will present contests for councilman-at-large nominations, with several contests slated for ward councilmen. Then, too, there are two Republican contenders for nomination as city treasurer.

Most talk thus far has centered around candidates for the office of mayor, with the annual salary of $5,300 tending to lessen interest of otherwise possible aspirants for this post.

In the final lineup Charles O. Anglin, former councilman, becomes the unopposed candidate for the Democratic nomination as mayor, while on the Republican side the present incumbent, Roy W. Vaughn, will be opposed for third term nomination by Thomas J. Wright, present First ward councilman—which should make a race that will be worth watching.

Even this early it is none too soon to mention the importance of all eligible voters participating in their party primary election, as this is an essential part of the successful functioning of self government.

Higher Liquor License Fees Proposed

PROPOSAL to boost the fees for various kinds of licenses permitting sale of intoxicants in Ohio seems more designed to increase revenues than to eliminate some of the evils that have developed in connection with present state management of the liquor business.

Intention, according to proponents of the idea that dispensers of beer, wine and hard liquor should pay more for that privilege, is to increase the revenues of cities. but if this is to be done at the cost of further spread of law violations in an effort to cover the higher outlay for licenses, the desirability of such a move may be questioned.

The liquor business has always been in a class by itself, in the matter of being subjected to heavy license fees and recognized need for constant supervision to keep it within reasonable bounds.

Before prohibition, when the much-maligned old-time saloon was the retail outlet for all varieties of intoxicants, the license fee reached $1,000 a year, with the limit in number based on population strictly adhered to, under supervision of a county liquor commission.

Under state control all sorts of licenses have developed, with fees ranging from $50 a year for "carry-outs" to $1,000 a year for night clubs. This has resulted in a scatterment of sales places in all parts of cities and rural areas, with unlimited beer licenses made available in residential districts without regard to wishes of persons living roundabout.

There has been hope, as weaknesses of the state control system became obvious, that improvement would be brought about by legislative action, but if an increase in license fees is the best that can be offered the prospect cannot be regarded as bright.

World Almanac Within Reach

THAT ESSENTIAL BOOK, the World Almanac for 1949, has just reached Mansfield newsstands and bookstores. The customary copy has come to this desk and will remain conveniently near for frequent reference through the year.

While statistics are the backbone of the World Almanac, of which this is the 64th annual edition, information is of such vast and varied kinds that readers are amazed to find that so much can be crowded into its 912 pages.

It has become the practice of many people, when some bit of information is desired, to turn first to the World Almanac —and it's really surprising how often arguments are settled by turning to this book.

For reference at home, office, store, school or library, the World Almanac has value far in excess of its $1.10 cost.

Constitutional Convention Suggested

AN UNTRIED and generally forgotten way to amend the Constitution is brought up by Philip J. Schuyler a Brooklyn member of the New York legislature. He plans to introduce a resolution asking Congress to call a constitutional convention to abolish the electoral college. If such a resolution is passed by two thirds of the states, the Constitution requires Congress to call a convention.

There has been no federal constitutional convention since the gathering of 1787 which drew up the original document. State constitutional conventions are common and sometimes do valuable work in bringing fundamental state laws up to date. A federal convention would find several possible improvements besides abolition of the electoral college.

One possible subject might be an amendment substituting a majority for the two thirds vote now required for senatorial ratification of treaties. Such an amendment would never get through the Senate; the only way to adopt it would be through a constitutional convention.

Some persons profess alarm over possibilities of such a convention, which they fear might open the way to radical measures. This, however, has not been the experience with state conventions. In any event, no amendment would be valid until it was ratified by three fourths of the states.

This seems to be, of all times in human history, the best for international unity and co-operation, foreseen long ago by poets and sages, "when the kindly earth should slumber, lapped in universal law." But so far no great leader has arisen to take advantage of the opportunity.

What Some Other People Are Saying

The Nation Today

'News' That Isn't News

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Joseph Stalin's answers the past few days—to questions about war, peace and meeting President Truman —are about as unsensational as saying he's against sin.

Is he against war? Yes. Is he for peace? He could hardly be expected to say the opposite. He gave the obvious answers to the questions asked him.

The only usual thing about what he said was the way in which he chose to say it.

For years now relations between Russia and the Western World, which includes this country, have been at about the lowest possible point. They've been practically on non-speaking terms.

If Stalin had been anxious to patch up the split, and wanted to make a move in that direction, he easily could have done it in the way nations usually do business.

He could have called in the American and other Western ambassadors, who have their embassies in Moscow for dealing with Russia, and told them what he had on his mind.

Instead, he by-passed them and piped out to the world a few statements in the form of answers to questions sent him by a newsman, Kingsbury Smith of the International News Service.

It was a chance to spread a little good-will propaganda for Russia among people who didn't notice how obvious his statements were.

And maybe he thought that by just mentioning "peace" he could slow up the Western allies who are building defenses against Russia. They've reacted very coldly.

Here, in brief form, are the questions and answers:

Question: Would Russia be willing to join with the United States in saying they have no intention of going to war with each other?

Answer: Yes. (It would have been fantastic if he had said anything but yes. He couldn't be expected to say he wants war.)

Question: Would Russia be willing to join with the U. S. in gradual disarmament?

Answer: Yes. (There's nothing new in that. The Russians have been talking about world disarmament for a long time, meanwhile making moves which this country considers so menacing that we've started big rearmament.

(Russia could cut its army in half and local communists in every country in Western Europe still could act like an army by trying to take over their government from the inside, without attack by Russia.)

Question: Would Russia lift the Berlin blockade if the U. S., Britain and France postponed setting up a separate German government?

Answer: Yes. (That's not new either. You could tell beforehand Stalin would answer "Yes" to that.

(The Russians have long bitterly opposed creation by the Western allies of a government in Western Germany. Last year Stalin said he wanted it postponed.)

Question: Would Stalin be willing to meet with President Truman at a "mutually agreeable" place to talk peace?

Answer: Yes. (It was perfectly safe for Stalin to say "yes" to that one. He wasn't committing himself to anything. Since "mutually agreeable" means both men would have to agree on a place, Stalin really hadn't said anything.

(Informed of this statement of Stalin's, Mr. Truman took the stand he made known repeatedly before: He'd be glad to see Stalin in Washington but no place else.)

So Smith sent one more question to Stalin: Would he be willing to go to Washington to see Mr. Truman? Answer: No. He said he'd meet the President behind the Iron Curtain.

He said, because of his health, he couldn't travel to Washington. But he thanked Mr. Truman for his invitation.

(Mr.Truman hasn't said any time recently he had invited Stalin to Washington. He did invite him twice, in 1945 and in 1946, but it is not known he has invited him since.)

So the score stands: No hits, no runs, no errors.

Washington Calling

It's Called 'Honest Graft'

By MARQUIS CHILDS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — The average citizen who drops his ballot in the box with a virtuous sense that he has done his civic duty until another election rolls around seldom comes up against the harsh reality of who gets what under the American political system of the present day. A window dressing of history and campaign speeches stands between the citizen and the men he elects to public office.

Illinois' new governor, Adlai Stevenson, himself a comparatively newcomer to the rough-and-tumble of politics, is making some startling discoveries in his first weeks in office. The governor's salary is $12.000 a year, plus a house, a car and driver and a modest expense allowance.

Yet, by a rough estimate, it costs the governor $50.000 a year just to maintain himself in the office. For example, he is expected to contribute an amount usually set by precedent, to every good and charitable cause in the state, both big and little. If he doesn't, a black mark is put against his record and he is labeled tightwad or worse.

From where does the difference between $12.000 and $50.000 come? Well, the seasoned politician speaks cynically of a category called "honest graft." By this he means the kind of kickback that may cost the taxpayers little or nothing and may not involve any major turpitude.

It sometimes seems that state governments were deliberately designed to put the highest reward on graft and corruption. The state of Illinois last year had a payroll of $100.000.000 and the budget for the coming years is tentatively set at $1.200.000.000.

Yet, the boss of this huge enterprise is paid a pathetically inadequate salary and hampered at almost every turn. While the equation of who gets what is somewhat more hardboiled in Illinois, the situation here is fairly typical of the other 47 states.

* * *

Calls for More Money.

THANKS to his own reputation and to the prestige of his astonishing victory of last fall, Governor Stevenson has succeeded in persuading some able men to take responsible jobs in his administration at less than adequate salaries.

The fact that changes are being made in Illinois where from time to time the political level has sunk mighty low is in itself extraordinary. Col. Jacob M. Avery has had a lot to do with it.

Serving through some of the fiercest battles of the war in the Pacific, Colonel Avery did some hard thinking. Returning to become the Democratic boss of Chicago, he first backed Martin Kennelly as a reform mayor. Then a year ago he put his support behind Mr. Stevenson for governor and Paul Douglas for U. S. senator.

If anyone had said five years ago that such a political miracle could happen here, he would have been quickly hustled off to one of the state's overcrowded mental institutions.

Yet, machine politics in a big city calls for money. For his campaign last fall governor Stevenson had perhaps one-twentieth of the estimated $2,000,000 spent for former Gov. Dwight Green. Jobs—patronage —are a substitute for money.

All the demands come down on the new governor. Virtually every state institution is clamoring for money at the same time that obvious economy must be effected.

Governor Stevenson ordinarily looks out on the world with a humorous, good-natured air, which is one of the reasons so many people are drawn to him. There is something essentially direct and unaffected about him.

Seated in the governor's chair, surveying the horrendous house-cleaning job to be done, he looks grim. The old habits, the old indifference, the familiar venality may be too deeply entrenched. But you know that here is a man who is going to do his damndest to end ancient evils that benefit the few and burden the many.

Negotiations May Serve as Barometer

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — February 7 has been marked on the state department calendar with a red circle. This is the date the diplomats are going to watch to see whether the Russians really want to get along with the USA.

On that date the United States, France and Britain begin negotiations with Russia for an Austrian peace treaty, and the state department has decided to let these negotiations serve as a barometer of the cold war.

So far the Russians have been talking peace but acting tough. While Togliatti in Italy and communist leaders in France have been announcing that Russia can get along with the west, and while Stalin has said he would be willing to meet Truman, actually there has been not the slightest change in Russian policy.

But when the big powers sit down to negotiate an Austrian peace treaty, the state department thinks Russia will have a chance to show whether she really means what she says.

If Russian delegates are reasonable regarding Austria, Secretary of State Acheson is preparing to propose a meeting in New York of the Big Four foreign ministers—Russia, Britain, France, and the USA—about April 5, when the United Nations holds a special assembly session.

Note—Other U. S. observers don't agree with the state department that Austria is a good barometer of the cold war. They point out that, since Yugoslavia broke away from the iron curtain, Russia has no reason to be tough in Austria. It was Tito's influence that previously toughened up Russian policy against Austria.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN is happy as a schoolboy over the world-wide reception given to his plan to build up backward areas. Secretary of State Dean Acheson has agreed to name a woman as ambassador to one of the top European countries. . . . The story on what happened to the Gallup polls, the predicters and the newspapers during the late election, has just been published by Morris Ernst—"The People Know Best." Healthy reading for newspapermen. . . . But he added that the investigation should also include the real estate lobby.

Communist Visits Consulate.

THE state department has just received an awkward cable from American Consul General Angus Ward in Mukden, China.

Consul Ward cabled that American citizens, American property and American diplomats in communist-held northern China are receiving remarkably good treatment at the hands of Chinese communists. In fact, Ward cabled that one of the leading communist generals of the North had visited the consulate that day to pay his respects.

The Chinese general was most polite, spent an hour assuring Ward of the communist desires for friendship with the USA, and their hope of peaceful cooperation and trade. Following this, Ward took the communist general on a tour of the American consulate.

His visitor seemed much impressed, particularly by an exhibit of the U. S. information service which featured news dispatches and propaganda, translated into Chinese, telling America's story to the Chinese people.

"Now, Mr. Consul," the Chinese communist general said, "I am delighted that you Americans believe in the freedom of the press. I think this is a very fine exhibit. We believe in freedom of the press, too."

Consul Ward smiled happily. Then he stopped smiling.

"Since we all believe in the freedom of the press," continued the Chinese communist general, "I have a few documents and articles that I'd like to put up with your exhibits so that the people can see both sides of the story. That would only be freedom of the press. I know you will be glad to do it."

Consul Ward had no answer. He engaged in some polite double-talk, then hastily wired the state department for instructions.

Assignment: America

While Royalty's Around

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK—Well, sir, I am appalled to read in the papers the kind of barbarous treatment royalty has to put up with in America, land of the free, land of the brave and land of opportunity to eat three squares a day when the old job gives out.

It grieves me considerably to read that Queen Alexandra of Yugoslavia practically had to knock another woman down recently in order to be first out of an elevator in which both were riding.

Naturally, as a queen—with or without a country — Alexandra could not permit another dame to walk out of an elevator ahead of her. Precedence and all that sort of thing, old lug, in case you are not up on royal preragatives.

The other lady made a race to be first out of the elevator. But Alexandra, with youth and training on her side, beat her to it.

The only comfort I derive from the episode is the fact the other lady was not a vulgar, pushing American, insensitive to the delicate matter of elevator precedence.

The other woman, in this case, was also a sprig of royalty bent on maintaining her position and putting upstarts, like us natives, in our place.

She was Princess Martha, wife of the Archduke Franz Joseph of Austria, who has been fighting a stiff, up-hill battle for almost a decade to set a kindly example of proper behavior and decorum in this democracy whence she and her husband fled as refugees when war enveloped Europe.

Naturally, getting out of elevators first, ahead of the peasants, is awfully, awfully important.

And I was terribly happy to learn that it all ended on an understanding note. Both of the royal ladies met at the same party and when the princess learned that she had tried to head off a queen in the elevator, she liked to have died!

* * *

To Avoid Mistakes.

THE PRINCESS curtsied deeply and apologized prettily by saying she would as soon have slit her throat as leave an elevator ahead of a queen. Well, the queen was just as gracious as they come. She magnanimously forgave the princess and added:

"I wouldn't have minded being second to you, but I didn't know who you were either."

That's the trouble: In America, you just can't tell whom you're pushing around. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred, it will just be some suburban housewife or petite bourgeois who grubs for a living in Wall Street.

But on that hundredth occasion, Queen Alexandra or Princess Martha will probably find themselves jostling for position with some of their own ilk, who are holing up in the United States by the hundreds until things get better in the old country.

Naturally this is a sad situation, heightened by the uncouth confusion in American elevators. Furthermore, I think exkings are just as good as anybody else. After all, that's the democratic way, isn't it? Suppose some of 'em are out of a job?

What I am now suggesting is a fair deal or square shake for royal refugees who bravely put up with so much in return for American comfort, safety and good grub.

For their own protection, I think former kings, queens and lesser sprouts should be tagged. Let's give them a big badge to wear on their lapels, complete with name and finger prints.

But I also am serving notice that I am having a badge made for myself. In big, bright, beautiful neons, it is going to read "American Taxpayer."

Dave Boone Says:

THE U. S. Supreme Court has decided 5 to 4 that a ban on sound trucks in Trenton is not illegal, but it took five different documents from the jurists to do it. Justice Reed wrote the decision and it was fully shared by Chief Justice Vinson and Justice Burton. Justice Black wrote a dissenting opinion shared by Justices Douglas and Rutledge. Justice Murphy dissented but not in writing. Justice Rutledge wrote a separate dissent. Justices Frankfurter and Jackson wrote opinions agreeing with the Reed, Vinson and Burton decision but criticising some phases.

* * *

The Supreme Court is supposed to straighten things out. You couldn't get more balled up than that by a set of opinions in the lobby of a police court 2,000 miles from a law library.

* * *

There was a time when the highest court in the country could be depended on to arrive at a clear view in a fairly simple issue. Gosh, there's more quarreling over any given point there now than there was originally in the lower court among the less sparkling legal minds.

* * *

If there was a higher law court, the Supreme Court justices might have to carry their own fights to it.

Call For 'Common Sense'

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — We very likely have the only atom bombs in the world, and we certainly have the biggest ones, according to the Atomic Energy Commission's annual report to Congress which also reveals that we are producing more and bigger ones all the time.

In short, we are well-stocked on bonds.

For a day or two we read about that in the newspapers and heard it over the radio. But that was just one item. When you stop to consider it, the American newspaper reader and radio listener today lives in a veritable din about implements of war, faster and faster war planes, rocket ships and the like.

Generals and admirals make speeches and give out interviews about the need of more and bigger of everything, and about high strategy to meet this or that possible thrust of "the enemy."

It's news, and that's the frightening part of it. We are letting ourselves drift into a dangerous state of mind almost without being aware of it. A fellow takes a chance to raise a whisper about "peace."

It is, for instance, considered very naive in some quarters, if not actually that now horrid thing "appeasement" to suggest that our government should take up seriously the last of several overtures in the past few months from Prime Minister Josef Stalin of Russia for negotiation of our many differences.

That shows how far we've wandered from American common sense.

It is, we are told, just another move in the Russian game to trick us and deceive us, and maybe it is. But we've both been playing a vast poker game for quite a while now.

Russia shoves in Poland, Rumania, Czechoslovakia and Berlin crises, and we push forward with Greece and Turkey and the Marshall Plan and now the Atlantic Pact, and, between times, set off a bomb or two in the Pacific just to see how good we are getting at that.

* * *

Strength Is Advantage.

THE CHIPS are stacked up high on the table, and so is the pile of guns underneath our respective chairs—ready for the quick draw.

The game can't go on forever. It is said that the latest "peace" offer of Premier Stalin is aimed at the projected Atlantic Pact, that thereby he hopes to stop that.

That diagnosis may be correct. That proposed alliance of western powers, coupled with military supplies from us, probably looks no nicer from the other side of the Iran Curtain than Russia's moves look to us on this side. But her previous moves have not stopped us. We don't have to give up that or anything else to sit down and talk.

It might possibly be that our persistence finally has had its effect in high places in Russia, and now they are willing to talk business.

It is said that you can't trust Russia. That has been said over and over so much that it gives the impression at least that we don't think we are clever enough to sit down and negotiate, that we really don't trust ourselves. That can't be true.

Constantly cited are other conferences, Yalta and Potsdam among them, in which it is said glibly that we were badly outsmarted. It is difficult how to place ourselves back in situations in the midst of war and make any true judgment.

We have plenty of good diplomatic brains. And we lead from strength, for we are the strongest nation in the world today.

We are so strong that we can afford to make the simple gesture of accepting the invitation for negotiations, either at the highest level or lower, whichever is most practical. In fact, we are so strong that we cannot afford to refuse, for the stake is the peace of the world.

City's Children to Mark Dental Health Week

Program Cites Need For Training

Jingle Contest Offered In Schools

Next Monday is National Children's Dental Health Day, and 75,000 practicing dentists will join with the nation's parents, school authorities and health workers in its observance.

Mansfield is going the nation one better, however. Mayor Roy W. Vaughn has proclaimed the full week, from Feb. 7-13, as Children's Dental Health week. In his proclamation the mayor urged all citizens, schools, and youth organizations to cooperate next week to make people of Mansfield aware of the need for and value of a year-round dental program for the city's children.

The Mansfield Dental clinic's educational committee will sponsor a jingle contest in all of the city's elementary schools next week. Pupils in all grades from one to nine will be asked to submit jingles with a dental health theme. They will be judged by the committee and a prize of one dollar will be given the winner. Second prize will be 50 cents.

SERVE ON COMMITTTEE

Members of the educational committee are Mrs. W. C. Fort, chairman, Dr. William E. Baird, Raymond Dent, principal of Roseland school, Mrs. Paul Kelley, Mrs. Hollis Quinlan, Miss Helen Lorow, and Mrs. J. M. Clark.

The educational program is the latest clinic project, and its aim is to promote better care of teeth in the elementary schools, Mrs. Fort explained. Heretofore the clinic has concentrated on extracting and filling teeth, but the need for dental education has been acute, she said.

The program includes showing films dealing with dental care to shcoolchildren, having nurses explain dental care and getting the pupils to make posters explaining how to build good teeth. Teachers and principals of Mansfield schools are being enlisted to help put over the program.

Mrs. Fort said methods used so far to promote dental health in schools have been incorporated with other activities, and no attempts have been made to use any of the children's own time. Pupils are encouraged to make posters in their art classes, for example. Such tying in with other activities is practiced so as not to interfere with the pupils' normal schedules, clinic officials said.

Such a program has of necessity been limited, it was pointed out. No funds are allocated from the Community Chest for an educational program, and the clinic has had to operate on the voluntary help of its sponsoring clubs.

Mrs. Roosevelt Invited Red Youth Heads to White House

Calif.), a good friend of the Roosevelt family and a member of the un-American Activities committee, was shocked one day on a visit to the White House when he saw Cadden and Simon occupying Lincoln's bedroom. He mentioned this to the president, and informed him of the nature of the committee's file on Simon and on Cadden's youth movement.

Roosevelt was busy with other matters. "That's Mrs. Roosevelt's business," he said. "I can't do anything about it."

Under its acting chairman, Rep. Starnes, the committee began hearing witnesses in the youth movement matter while Dies was in New York preparing to speak at Madison Square Garden.

The "young people," as Mrs. Roosevelt called them in her column, arrived at the House Office building in two White House cars, chaperoned by the beaming first lady. They laughed a great deal, handed out literature asking for the youth of the world to unite to fight fascism, and settled down for an interesting show.

A VERITABLE CIRCUS

The committee's counsel at that time was Rhea Whitley, a former F.B.I. man accustomed to dealing only with the blunt, well-defined blacks and whites of interrogation. But here was something that, by design, was neither. It was closer to a circus.

The session stumbled to an uneasy halt with little accomplished. Starnes was soon on the long distance phone, calling Dies.

"We had a hell of a day," Starnes moaned. "For God's sake, hurry back.. and bring Matthews with you."

Matthews was the same J. B. Matthews who had testified in the early days of the committee. He had been retained as a committee researcher and was a source of enormous information.

He and I went through Lash's record that night, upon our return from New York. The next morning I arranged for Matthews, rather than Whitley, to question Lash.

The "young people" and Mrs. Roosevelt settled down for another day of fun. But Matthews, recognizing the tactics of Lash and the other leaders as an old and trusted communist diversion—to which Mrs. Roosevelt was inadvertently lending her prestige—began taking Lash and the Student union apart.

It was a depressed and deflated little group of "young people" who returned to the White House for lunch. The tinsel had been removed from the hearing by Matthews's astute questioning. As Mrs. Roosevelt wrote in her column, the contrast between the first and second day of the hearing was "noticeable."

It was soon time to write the committee's annual report, and the question of whether or not we should pronounce the American Youth congress a communist Front was at hand. Rep. Voorhis was opposed to such a labeling, explaining that he had promised Mrs. Roosevelt he would do his best to keep the Youth congress off the front list.

The committee compromised by reporting it had detected "evidence of communism in the group's leadership."

HECKLE PRESIDENT

The report had been filed, Hitler and Stalin had signed their pact, and the American Youth congress' annual convention was being held in Washington. Mrs. Roosevelt invited the "young people"—by now a large group—to a tea on the south lawn of the White House.

The president appeared on the balcony above them, in good time, and called upon them to denounce "all forms of dictatorship, whether found in Berlin or Moscow."

At the mention of "Moscow" he was immediately heckled. He retired indoors, indignantly, and Mrs. Roosevelt thereafter cooled off toward the movement.

But the ultimate switch in loyalty was best epitomized by Joe Cadden.

The lovable young leader of the American Youth congress moved from Lincoln's bed to a picket line of the American Peace Mobilization. Up and down, on the pavement before the White House, he carried placards denouncing the policies of his celebrated host and hostess.

(Tomorrow: Stripling reveals that the house committee's aid was sought by the White House in attempting to place Joe Lash in Naval Intelligence.)

PILES Are Never "Mild"
DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, rain in black and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

February is a party month for grownups and kiddies alike, and this delightful recipe for divinity fudge is designed to please any gay gathering. Your hungry guests will devour platter after platter of this candy treat that's quickly and easily made.

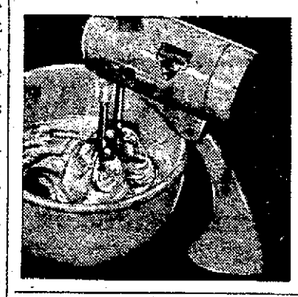
PREPARATION: Assemble ingredients and utensils needed. Separate eggs. chop nut meats coarsely.

INGREDIENTS: 2 cups sugar, ½ cup light corn syrup, ½ cup water, 2 egg whites, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup nut meats coarsely chopped.

METHOD: Combine sugar, corn syrup and water in sauce pan. Cook, stirring until sugar dissolves. Then cook over low heat without stirring to hard ball stage (265 degrees F) Test by dropping a few drops in a cup of cold water. Meanwhile, put egg whites and salt into large bowl. Beat until stiff but still moist—about 2 minutes. Slowly pour hot syrup over egg whites while continuing to beat until mixture begins to thicken. Scrape bowl while beating. Add vanilla and nut meats. Beat until mixture will hold its shape. Drop from teaspoon on to waxed paper or spread in a buttered pan. Cool and cut in squares.

MAKES: About 2½ dozen pieces.

Note: Candy may be varied by the addition of any of the following: Chopped candied cherries, orange peel, figs or coconut.



Throw a new light on a dark dress with a little organdy collar which you can make yourself. All it takes is a half-yard of 2½ inch pleated organdy, and one and one-half yards of picoted ribbon. Stitch ribbon lengthwise through the center of the organdy, and tie in a bow at the front.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, February 5

While it is probable that a well studied determination to attack static situations, congestions or stubborn opposition, by concentrated efforts, diligence and sound purpose is present, yet there is a sign of some sort of mental obliquity, peculiar slant, or want of proper insight of fundamental factors. This may prove disturbing or could thwart cherished aims and objectives. Perhaps accidents, quarrels, defaulted agreements, or unwise judgment may be a stumbling block. It is possible that sound foundations now laid may have future promise.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may feel disposed to attack a difficult situation, or launch some pet project, in which there is determination to win security and future stability by concentrated efforts, resources and firm resolve to build sound foundations. Yet such worthy endeavors may be subject to an obscure judgment, wrong perspective, of even to enmity due to misunderstandings, strife, faulty contracts or other personal element of opposition or conflict. Study carefully but defer action until more favorable openings for stability and security are not hampered by mistake, error, false moves.

A child born on this day is well equipped for a successful and stable career, by hard work and fidelity, but it may be subject to errors in judgment, or obscure understandings.

LUNCHEON HELD

A luncheon at 12 noon was held by members of the Soroptimist club at the Happy Harry House. Miss Florence MacDonald was the hostess for the afternoon. The Venture club activities were discussed by the members in attendance.

CHARITY CLUB

Mrs. J. C. Gorman, 600 Woodland road, was hostess to 18 members of the Charity Club at which time the group sewed for the hospital. Luncheon was served at noon. The next meeting is scheduled for Feb. 15 at the home of Mrs. Charles Nail, Woodhill road.
